Over the 2018-19 academic year, the Office of the Vice-Chancellor, Academic, has been working with various departments and faculties to develop a comprehensive plan for the future of the university's academic programs.

Academic Planning will be reviewing a number of key areas of the university's academic programs, including the following:

• The structure of the university's academic programs, including the number and types of programs and courses offered

• The quality of the programs

• The resources required

• The impact on the university's reputation
